Match your Lighting to the Moment

The use of uplighting is a great way to set the mood for a wedding, but you can take it up a notch and work with an entertainment company that offers color changing uplighting. You can dramatically increase the desired atmosphere by changing the uplighting colors to reflect the tone of key moments such as the First Dance or Cake Cutting.

Make Sure that Can't Miss Song Gets Played

Work with a wedding DJ that will customize the music for you. Talk with your DJ ahead of time and let them know what songs are a must. Maybe it's a song that you know your friends and family won't be able to sit through. Some of the best memories are created when everyone is on the dance floor.

Create Memories with a Photo Booth Guest Book

Have a chalkboard at your photo booth along with lots of fun props for your family and friends to use as a visual guestbook. This will let your guests get creative while making and sharing their wedding memories with you. Make sure to make an announcement and leave instructions at the photo booth for guests so all the guests get involved.

Craft a Memorable #Hashtag

A great way for everyone to share individual moments from their own perspective is to use a unique hashtag for your wedding. Encourage your guests to share photos, videos and messages on social networks like Facebook and Instagram. This is a great way to get everyone involved in and lets friends and family who couldn't make it join in the experience. Don't forget to instruct your older guests on how to use it on networks like Facebook so they don't feel left out.

Brief your MC

Your family and friends will appreciate a wedding that flows naturally and feels effortless. Get together with your MC ahead of time and make sure your expectations are understood. By working with an experienced professional MC you'll work together to craft a timeline for the moments that will become your favorite memories.
